Happiness Is . . .

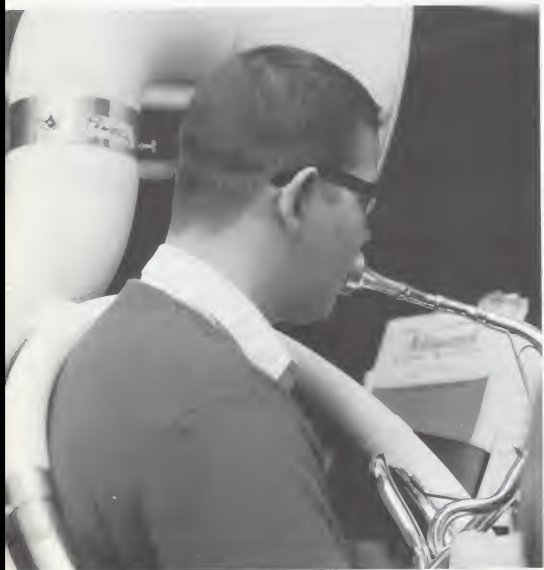

many things at Calumet High.

It is an A term paper, a hole-in-one, victory in a class election. It is involved in all phases of school life. There is happiness in the classroom when a freshman dissects a frog without fainting. Happiness is in the locker room after an impressive victory. Happiness is in the club rooms while planning a field trip.

Happiness is many things to many people. All the different things that make happiness are found in some area of Calumet High School. When one looks back on the lively events of the 68-69 school year, he will know what "HAPPINESS IS".

Happiness Is Learning for Tomorrow

Curriculum. That's a mighty big word with a lot of different meanings. A few aspirin now and then help when curriculum means headaches and tension from rushing to get that term paper finished. Maybe you have to take that big exam tomorrow, or give that all important speech which determines whether you get an "A" or a "B". That's when the cold sweat develops and the pressure begins to mount. Ninety. One hundred. One hundred ten degrees! How long can you last?...

... Finally, report cards are given, tensions relieved, and headaches forgotten. Your brain feels two tons lighter.

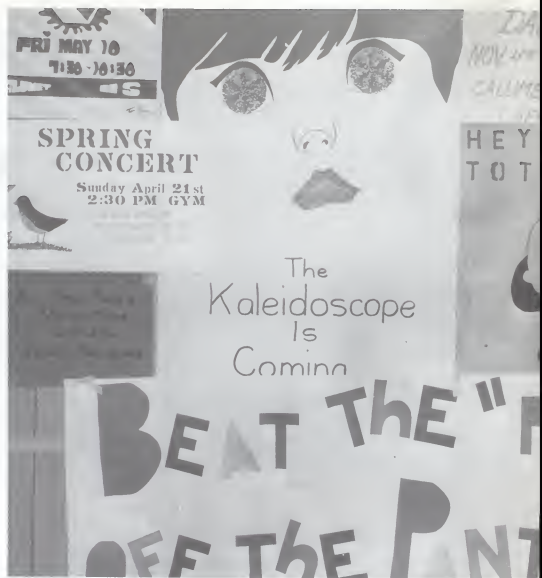

Now a new semester starts, bringing new curriculum along with all of its little heartaches. These heartaches may not seem important now, but in the future—who knows?

Happiness

(LEFT) Kaleidoscope! Football, basketball games! The prom: a dance. A concert. A collage of signs calls to mind the many activities sponsored by various organizations. (ABOVE) Cary Peach sheepishly grins as he hears, "Hi! I'm your bunny Martha! Welcome to the Harry T. Richard's Playboy Club!"

Is Participation

Although academics have first call on student life, organizations also play an important part. It is through organizations that students are able to take on the responsibilities required of social life.

Organizing fund-raising drives, sponsoring a dance, and putting on a car wash are among some of the projects which give students a chance to take part in club activities. It is their opportunity to meet people, and to learn to work and cooperate with them.

It is the main objective of organizations to get the students to take an active part in school affairs. They combine interest and work into beneficial programs. After all, happiness is participating.

Happiness Is . . . Competition

Happiness is competition and lots of spirit. That's what keeps them going. The pride the boys feel inside is reflected in their willingness to practice long hard hours and to participate as a Calumet team member.

Sports keep the boys constantly improving their physical coordination as well as their minds. Through competition they learn to cope with defeat as well as exult in victory.

It is these commonly-shared experiences that unite the boys into a co-operative team. They learn what it means to belong, the benefits of having friends with the same interests.

Happiness Is Those Everyday Things

It's the everyday things that make school what it is—the opening and closing of lockers, hurrying to class, dropping books, saying "Hi", trying to go up the "down" staircase and the endless moving of the clock—all are ingredients of Calumet Student Life.

School tries to help you grow by giving you the chance to learn, to express your opinions, and to involve yourself in activities. But school is only part of your life. You must fit together all the moments—your relationships, the things you like to do, and all your thoughts—to try to develop yourself.

Is Recognition

The underclassmen strive to get recognition from seniors by participating in activities and also competing with one another to achieve better school spirit. The freshmen class gets to know upperclassmen and fellow freshmen at the annual frosh mixer. As the years roll on sophomores traditionally order rings and wear them as juniors.

The underclass officers were chosen by their fellow students to lead them through another year of activities and problems.

Next years underclass will consist of sophomores and juniors, as the last freshmen class fades through the halls of '69.

Happiness Is . . .

Senior Year

You really think a lot now that you're a senior. You're at a turning point of your life and before you go forward, you have to look back at all the influences that have molded your personality and character as you've grown.

A senior has expanded as much as he can in high school. The idea of friendship has been formed, morals and principles are defined, and the academic effort put forth has been set.

Leaving the security of high school and striking out on your own will put you into many unfamiliar situations with their accompanying problems. These new experiences lead you into further development of your character as an intelligent young adult.

Happiness Is Support from Our Local Merchants

A coke, a pizza, a haircut, a blouse or a few gallons of gas—all of these are small and may seem insignificant at times. But it's good to have a favorite store or drive-inn where the service is good and people can get together.

There are many business establishments in our area which serve our students generously and have supported us in many ways. In the Community section you will see an example of their support in the form of ads. These people do not stop with buying an ad. Many of them are willing to give their time and effort helping students with club and class projects.

In order to show these merchants that their generosity has not gone unforeseen, the Chieftain staff hopes all students will patronize the local merchants who support our undertakings.

(LEFT) "Sorry boys, but you'll have to take a number and wait your turn." Jesse Valdez and Mike Summers would like to give George Bedner of George's Barber Shop a few tips on how to cut Mario Rodriguez's hair. (ABOVE) "Did I put those eggs on the bottom?" wonders Mike Berdine as he furiously packs groceries at Strack and Van Til's. (BELOW) "Fill 'er up," says Robbie Childress at John's Clark Super 100 as Sharon Lovings fills his empty tank.

Administration Changes Bring Progress

The administration of Calumet began another successful year under Max Hile. Students saw two new faces in the office as Joseph Yacko, former typing teacher, and Nick Julius, former assistant principal at Ridge Jr. High, began their first year as assistant principals at our school.

Alfred E. Speck, also began his first year at the position of superintendent by replacing Dr. Charles Sharp.

Under the guidance of these new personnel, we enjoyed the benefits of fresh ideas and renewed enthusiasm. One result of their efforts to improve the school system is the completion of the new field house which will be open next fall.

Grammar Leads to Foreign Tongues

Diagramming sentences, conjugating verbs, translating paragraphs, and writing compositions are familiar assignments for the language students at Calumet. The lab equipment enables foreign language students to hear the language being spoken in its native tongue.

"To Be, or not to be, that is the question," echoed through the halls as senior English classes recited Shakespeare, Wordsworth and Chaucer. The Junior honor English class worked diligently in an attempt to memorize their lines for two plays they were studying.

Silas Marner made a big hit with the sophomore class as they tried to solve the mystery of Dunstan Cass. Freshmen surveyed famous authors by reading a variety of noted novels.

Mathematics,

Science Prepare Collegebound Students

The variety of courses in the Math department, which ranges from pre-algebra questioning to calculus equations, affords students an opportunity to broaden their college preparation. Regardless of the class, the students are faced with a challenge in every phase of mathematics. Squares, rectangles, and trapezoids become everyday items, and the quadratic equation is a household word.

The aroma of formaldehyde, sweetened by sulfur and ammonium hydroxide, floats from the Biology and Chemistry labs as future scientists explore the mysteries of nature. The secrets of the test tubes are unlocked, and the atom looms as the very largest of tiny particles, as the Bunsen burner illuminates scientific knowledge.

Special Lincoln Display Attracts History Students

(TOP) Delores Frye and Jesse Pridmore locate various African countries. (BELOW) Civil War, documents are the objectives of Carol Meyer's U.S. History Speech.

Locating countries, examining documents, and making friends with George Washington occupied the time of Calumet's social studies students. All aspects of our government became familiar, and African nations seemed like next-door neighbors.

Calumet's U.S. History students had a special treat this year, as a number of classes journeyed to the Museum of Science and Industry. There they were able to view the special Lincoln display which helped make their studies seem more realistic.

Special Ed. Key to Individual Learning

Library Facilities Modernize Education

A quiet atmosphere and accessible reference material are essential to the conscientious student, whose search for knowledge requires additional research and study time.

Removed from the hustle and bustle of the corridors outside, the library through the medium of its thousands of books offers every student a source of new learning to enjoy.

Home Ec.—Basic Training for Girls

"The best way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Home economics students believe this and work heartily to prepare delicious meals. Upon completing the day's menu, the lucky girls get to eat their tasty tidbits. Fortunately, students do not have to undergo this torture a full year, for they also get a chance at the sewing machines.

Substituting stomach aches for pin pricks, seamstresses scissors sections, stitch seams, and sew swiftly. Polka dots, plaids, and stripes are transformed into a cherished wardrobe. Although the results may not be perfect, one can always hear the girls say, "I did it myself."

Bus. Key Opens Door to Opportunities

Accuracy and neatness are the key words to success in commercial subjects. The business-minded student at Calumet finds numerous opportunities to prepare for a career. The curriculum offers a variety of commercial subjects such as shorthand, bookkeeping, general business and extensive courses in typing. Also available to students is work-world experience through the cooperative education training.

"Stay in line! Pick up your feet!" These are only two of the orders given when the band practices for its many football games and parades. During the winter, the band sends music floating through the halls as it prepares to conclude its activities with a spring concert.

"The period of adjustment" for the A Cappella students was a difficult one as they faced Miss Langston's new teaching methods. But their hard work proved worthwhile in their two annual concerts.

Health and PE—Two Ways to Fitness

Sore muscles, aching backs, and "that run-down feeling," are the results of the first day of Physical Education after a relaxing summer.

Lifting one's foot isn't hard unless he is drudging around the track trying to complete one "lap".

Fortunately, not all aspects of the phys. ed. program result in the "day-after" aches that some of the less-physically-fit experience after an hour of activity. Competitive and individual sports add variety to the extensive schedule.

Along with phys. ed., classroom work is required by all students in the form of health. In this case, students are on the "outside looking in", as they study fundamental organs of the body.

"My heart is open to you," says Crystal Malone as she and Debby Shaffer trace the blood flow through the heart. (BELOW) At the "peek of perfection", gymnast Alice Peek does one of her flying somersaults.

Every morning at 9:30, twenty bewildered girls walk into practical arts class to face sabre saws, lathes, and drill presses. For the first time girls were allowed to enter shop classes at Calumet. These girls proved that they too had the ability to use machines and actually make something useful.

While the girls work feverously in one part of the industrial building, boys in mechanical drawings and drafting classes hunch over their drafting boards with T-square and pencil trying to draw floor plans.

Artistically talented students find training and experience in art class. Creativity and a good imagination are important ingredients for all students.

Council Sponsors Varied Activities

Laboring under the yoke of indifferent membership, the Student Council tried to lead the way in school activities. Spirit week built up enthusiasm for the Homecoming game. The annual CAP program netted over $1000 to aid needy families in the area. The class elections this year were hotly contested and the student body was given the opportunity to vote for their candidates with a voting machine.

"We're No. 1." For the second consecutive year Calumet captured top honors in WLTH's School of the Year contest. To gain the top spot, the Student Council sold postcards. Sophomore Debbie Parkhurst proved the most spirited Warrior by sending in 620 cards. For her extra efforts she was awarded a class ring compliments of Hy Weiss Jewelers and a clock radio from WLTH.

Debbie Parkhurst smiles happily as WLTH disc jockey presents her with a clock radio for casting the most votes in the School of the Year contest.

Calumet Thespians Star in Two Dramas

Budding thespians put on two plays a year under the tutorage of dramatics coach Mr. Paul Borlick. Added to their repertoire this season was the spine-tingling drama "Storm" starring Daun Slather, Marie Mager, Chuck Banning, Jackie Modge and Bonnie Cokenour. The unforgettable love story "Dark Star" premiered the talents of Rhonda Hammersly, Diana Owen, Linda Moore, Jim Solon and David Eichensehr. Determination, a willingness to work hard and time to spare are a few qualities which comprise a good performer. These traits are displayed in the enthusiastic group known as the Calumet Players.

Foreign Arts Gain Student Interests

Education not only includes reading, writing, and arithmetic, but the cultures of people. Foreign language classes begin the cultural ideas and the language clubs continue from there.

Besides the everyday thing, the French, Pan Am, and Latin clubs attempt to bring a different and European flavor to their activities. By doing so, these clubs help students attain knowledge about various countries while enjoying it.

Bettering their relations with foreign countries and customs was accomplished by all foreign language clubs.

Proving the characteristics of scholarship, service, leadership, and character the National Honor Society works at carrying the torch to other students in our school.

Throughout the year, the Society sells candy during each lunch hour. These sales provide two scholarships to students who keep up their standards and plan to go to college at the end of their high school education.

In early spring, applications are filled out by students who wish to join the Society. After screening the candidates, initiation follows and the influence of scholarship grows. The door to education is opened further.

(BELOW) The students who were chosen to represent Calumet on "It's Academic" are Jim Paterson, Belinda Wigsmoen, Mary Verkuilen, Margaret Petersen, Lane Ralph, and Linda Moore. With the help of their new sponsor, Miss McCray, FTA has grown and become a more active club. An "It's Your Thang" soul dance was held to raise money for a spring trip.

The FNA traveled to Westville for an educational tour of the wards and buildings which provide care and training for the mentally ill at Beatty Memorial Hospital.

As new advisors of DECA, Mr. Moy and Mr. McFann stressed the importance of good salesmanship upon DECA members. Junior members put their training to use by selling calendars, fruit pies, and candy. After attending morning classes, senior DECA members left school for their designated jobs. The DECA program is designed to give working experience to students in an area of interest to them.

Give me a C!, Give me an A!
That's the way you spell it.
Here's the way you yell it!

Every sports event crowd has energy to spare, but it is the ten cheerleaders out in front who channel their enthusiasm into organized cheers and frantic pleas to B-E-A-T, BEAT 'EM!

Captained by senior Yvonne Berbesque, the varsity Warrior cheerleaders employed Pam Stec's dancing, Margie Ewing's pleading, Jackie Morgenroth's acrobatics, and Sue Gray's tears to bring the crowd to a rousing Calumet cheer.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders were just as vocal. Sherry Wallace led the squad of Judy Cliborne, Alice Cline, Donna Depew, and Kathy Johnson in their yells, shouts, screams, and tears.

This year's home sporting events were enlivened with teepees and hoops created by Margie Ewing.

Highlights Busy Calendar of Activities

The busy calendar of G.A.A. activities was expanded this year to include a fun-filled trip to Turkey Run State Park. After planning and saving for nearly two months, fifty enthusiastic members set out on Friday May 9th for a weekend of hiking, horseback riding, bicycling and hayrides. Rain and wind only added to the girl's fun as they slipped and slid over muddy trails and through chilly creeks. They returned home Saturday night tired and mud-spattered but happy. Plans for next year's trip are already under way.

Other activities such as the Powder Puff game, "Winter Fantasy", Loyalty Day Assembly, Dudes vs. Dolls volleyball game, weekly volleyball and basketball games, and the GAA banquet gave the club the recognition of being one of the most active and busiest organizations.

It was hard to imagine some of the guys without girls around, but the Varsity Club proved that they could work without them.

Approximately eighty-five boys who had earned their varsity letters made up the 1968-69 Varsity Club. These were the guys who participated and made their club a success.

During the lunch hours, a few of the boys manned the table outside the cafeteria door to sell their Peerless potato-chips. They also provided the students with sweatshirts decorated with the slogan "Calumet Warriors".

In all, the boys were proud to work in athletics and display their letters of accomplishment.

(LEFT) "Hey, two-two!" shout Varsity Club members as Calumet scores another basket. (BELOW) Although it may not seem like it, these boys are really racking their brains to come up with a new idea for their club.

Pushing through the doors of a large building, going down the hall to the busiest section of the factory you find an office. The men who run the busy building and their helpers work there.

Busy offices always have secretaries and the Secretarial Club devotes its time to furthering such official matters. Members have applied such skills as typing, book-keeping, and some have gone as far as intensive lab.

President Pattie Oliver, vice-president, Debbie Scott, secretary Dahalia Lemaster, and treasurer Marie Arraiga were the leaders of this year's club. The club's activities were supervised by Mrs. Juratic and Mrs. Meyer who gave much of their time in working with the enthusiastic club members.

The girls completed a successful year of preparing for the future.

Student Ideas Expressed in Literary Works

(BELOW) Serving as secretaries of TABS, Kathy Joiner, Belinda Yeager, and Duane Cheek look over the new shipment of books before distributing them to their classmates.

"There will be no Kaleidescope unless you help make it. Write and draw for Kaleidescope '69'". Signs similar to these were seen in the halls this year as a strong campaign was held to obtain material for printing. Kaleidescope, Calumet's literary magazine, provides students with an opportunity to express themselves through poetry, artwork, and essays. Awards were given for the best work submitted from each class. David Eichensehr captured honors for seniors; Nada Kostich for the juniors; Judi Swisher for the sophomores; and Leonia Bonds represented the freshman. With the assistance of their sponsor, Mrs. Elsie Waldron, the Kaleidescope staff has succeeded in displaying the unknown talents of many creative Calumet students.

The TABS Club is designed as a supplement to student curriculum. Headed by their sponsor Mrs. Kingery, TABS offers a wide variety of books enabling students to purchase material for their reading pleasure.

Visit Orphanages; Aid Needy Families

Christmas was a time to remember this year for four area families who were the recipients of Christmas Cheer Baskets from the Homemakers Club. Canned goods and used toys were collected and over $150 was generously donated by neighborhood stores and the club to make the project a success.

In their first year, the Y-Teens got off to a good start. A bake sale was held to raise money to sponsor a Christmas Party for seventeen children at Bethany Children's Home. Cake and punch were served and Christmas carols were sung to the delightment of the children. For Valentine's Day, the Y-Teens made corsages and boutonnières for the teachers and staff. Although a newly formed club, the Y-Teens have accomplished much and look forward to new activities next year.

CHS Scientists Eager to Learn, Discover

With more than 100 students on the roster, the Chemistry Club proves to be the largest of Calumet's extra-curricular organizations. Along with being the largest, it is also the most active with a series of visiting guest lecturers and numerous field trips and interesting experiment demonstrations.

Along with the Chemistry Club, the Physics Club provides activity for those physics students who choose to examine the laws of nature in other areas. Moderated by Mr. Smead, the club learns the techniques of physical science equipment from camera to lasars to further their discoveries and investigations.

The Math Club covers the areas from equations and angles to the finer points of the slide rule. Activities this year include field trips to the Purdue University Math Department and the Museum of Science and Industry.

Warrior Staff Records Life at CHS

Progress always brings problems—Amen! The 1968-69 Warrior staff became aware of this fact all too well. This year marked the switch from sticky glue and crooked headlines to a new process of even columns, straight headlines, readable copy, and folded pages. Many difficulties in setting up the new graphic arts department and producing a smooth operation caused certain slowdowns in the Warrior production, sales, and circulation, but the improvement was obvious. The utilization of new equipment combined with a new learning process promises a bright future for the Warrior and all Calumet publications.

(LEFT) Hammond Times correspondents Joyce Beasley and Jack Ferguson discuss school activities for their next news stories. (BELOW) "I know it's in here somewhere!" says Debbie Scott as she and fellow newswoman Pat Harms search for the 1912 Christmas edition of the Warrior.

"Where's my ruler?" "Who took my copy block?" "Mr. Lavery, when are you going to get these typewriters fixed?" "Mary, is this alright?" "Who's staying 7th hour?" "Verkuilen, you just took my chair." "O.K. kiddies, we're 25 pages and 2 days away from our next deadline." "No, Irvine, a basket and a hole-in-one aren't the same thing."

Where could these comments be heard? Why, Room 211, of course, the source of all action! A state of chaos existed quite frequently as the Chieftain staff attempted to untangle the many dilemmas which it faced during the year. It took many after school hours, much cooperation, and the guidance of Dennis "the Menace" Lavery. But after many setbacks, the inspirations and ideas eventually became more than just a lot of hot air. They became the 1969 Chieftain.

To the majority of students at Calumet, school is much more than six classes a day and two bus rides. The fall season particularly is filled with the extracurricular football games, dances, and car washes which make school a "sometime" pleasure.

Calumet introduced its new ID machine in September. All students tracked down to the gym to fill out the cards, smile for the machine, and then move on to smile for Scotty and their yearbook pictures.

The first College Night, held on November 18, brought admission counselors from eighteen midwestern colleges and universities. Meeting with the representatives, the parents and students were informed of the various curricula and programs offered by the schools.

Although the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors laughed, the seniors didn't think their TB test were too funny. There were the usual groans and deep breaths, but the Class of 69 came through without a fatality.

Tamara Kucko Reigns as CHS Queen

"To pay or not to pay"—that was the question of Warpath '68. Some did and some didn't but it really didn't matter because the score was Calumet 13, East Gary 0. Besides downing the Eagles in a well-played game, other homecoming highlights were Spirit Week, the parade, the Powderpuff game, and the pep assembly.

Halftime coronation brought the Homecoming crown to Tamara Kucko in one of the closest elections in C.H.S. history.

Tamara, the Office Education Association candidate, was crowned by Tim Terrell and presented a bouquet of roses by Jimmie Sue Nix.

The Thursday afternoon Powderpuff game ended with the score: Annie Buegler 30, Chynka's Chargers 18. Soph Annie Buegler rushed for 4 touchdowns and over 200 yards for the Whang-da-pootanowhas to highlight the game. June Randolph returned two kickoffs for TD's to lead the Chargers.

CHS Enjoys Christmas—Warrior Style

Christmas at CHS brings together all areas of student participation. Early morning snowshovels whooshed into the drifts to clear a path for students while snowballs rained on unsuspecting friends.

The halls "dripped" with decorations for the second year as the Student Council sponsored project painted Calumet with candy canes and Christmas trees. The Class of 70's "Parade of Toys" theme captured first place honors among the classes.

Many clubs and classes celebrated the Yule season in their own ways. The Spanish classes celebrated with a piñata which provided candy for all. The spotlight of the Christmas season was captured by the GAA "Winter Fantasy". Over 115 couples braved the cold to dance to the music of the Muttonbource Court Chip and applaud as Janet Ash was crowned Queen.

It all started with the pounding of the drill, digging away at the earth. It seemed as if it would never quit. Then came the sawing, the pounding, and all that came with it. It looked like the fieldhouse would never get finished.

Now, almost two years later, Calumet students can say, "There it is, OUR fieldhouse."

A great deal of work went into the making of the building which now occupies the "once-was" south parking lot. It is now one of the finest in our area. Not only does our fieldhouse contain a spectacular gym, but other useful facilities.

One might get lost in it, but when he comes out he can say, "It's big, it's great, and I'm proud of it!"

Ideas Blossom as Spring Activities Grow

After being cooped up and only half alive, students began to bloom again during the spring season; life's temperature rose as did the weather.

All sorts of happenings began: racing motors, voting for next year's officers, and others. The Talent Show presented talent as well as a reason to get out of class. An aura of the Orient was presented to provide and exciting evening for all involved.

Finals began to creep into the scene as most crammed to make the last hour count. Graduation came, as triumphant seniors marched into the fieldhouse for the first and last time. Everyone was happy as that special summer began.

School Social Life Ends with an

Problem—How to recreate Old Cathay in Dolton, Illinois. This was the challenge facing the Junior Class Decoration Committee. To solve the problem, the Calumet coolies, Janet Hall, Pam Quisenberry, Tom Rosenwinkel and Teresa Wallin appeared with strong backs and creative minds. When they finished, the 20th Century ballroom had become an ancient oriental temple resplendent with dragons, lantern and rickshaws.

With "Evening in the Orient" a reality, more than 300 promgoers entered into a world of make-believe spiced with the fragrance of incense. Crowned royalty for the evening were juniors Dawn Harms and Tom Rosenwinkel with their attendants Doug Bragg and Sandy Nix.

As the evening drew to a close, the oriental facade began to melt and the couples left the Dorchester Inn for the American style Post Prom at Sherwood Club.

Happiness Is Graduation

Twelve years seem like an awfully long time, but they seemed to go by fast, didn't they? It's hard to believe that you're graduating. It was almost like yesterday when you had tears in your eyes because your mom left you alone at school—alone to face those first-grade problems. You made it through, though. Now you're standing there, getting that cherished diploma. What happened to those years? Are they merely faded pages in a scrapbook, or times which escaped your memory? They're more than that. They're a part of your life, an important part which helped make you what you are now. And now you're a graduate. You're someone special, and it's up to you to make those past years count. Oh there'll be problems, bigger than those first-grade ones. But you're not in first grade anymore.

(LOWER RIGHT) The early season cries of "We're No. 1" faded as the Warriors won some, but unfortunately lost most.

The 1968 football season proved a disappointment. After a 6—2—1 record last year and successive wins in the O-Rama and against Griffith, the Warriors seemed destined to be "The Big Machine". After this encouraging start the gridders slumped badly. Taking three defeats into the Homecoming game they rebounded to defeat East Gary 13—0, with Bob Meacham being named Mr. Football. The Warriors closed the season with a 13—7 loss to Merrillville and a 2—8 record. Although there were some highlights, the football year offered little to cheer about and much to think about.

This year's co-captains were seniors Ken DeRolf, Larry Barker, and Bob Meacham. The only bright spots in the long season were Tom McLaurin's touchdowns and Bob Meacham's tackles.

Improve

Calumet's freshmen football team enjoyed a successful year during the 1968 gridiron season. In compiling their impressive 6—3 record, the young gridders showed how the game should be played. Their crunching tackles, vicious blocks and long scoring plays produced Calumet's best football record of the year.

The outstanding players of the season were Juan Valesquez and William Walton. The team promises a group of excellent young gridders for future varsity competition. Leading the young Warriors to their successful season were first year coaches Ed Caplinger and Jim Willsey.

The junior varsity squad, led by Coach Dan Alvarez, ended the season with a 2—7 record. They provided many thrills in games decided by a few points in the closing seconds. Despite their record, the team improved as the season progressed, and will greatly contribute to the success of the varsity squad of '69.

in Sectionals; 3rd in Conference

Lack of depth marked our Harriers as an average team, according to Coach Traicoff. Even though the thinclads ended up with a fine 11—2 dual meet record, it was considered to be a poor season in comparison with Calumet's past performances. The Harriers sectional bid was greatly hampered by a late season injury to Henry Butler, but they still finished a strong second.

Team captain Clifford Brown anchored the team in many of their victories. Often challenging Cliff for first place was number two man Otis Burt. Next year's team will return with six lettermen. They are Henry Butler, Charles Goll, Otis Burt, Dave Joyner, Greg Traicoff, and Ernest Vasquez.

Determination Wins State Ranking

The poetry of basketball in rhythm and in motion comes from many hard hours of practice, patience, and self-endurance. The Calumet Warriors proved very poetic this year. Led by seniors Gary Cooper, Ed Shufford, Vince Johnson and backed by the big juniors Don Millington, Doug Bragg, and Joe Olin, the Warriors compiled an 18-3 record and were rated 18th in the state.

The basketball team played a very rugged season and compiled a 9-1 conference record to capture a share of the Calumet Conference title with Crown Point. One of the highlights of the season was defeating Bishop Noll, one of the state's top teams, capturing the Lake Central Holiday Tournament with easy victories over Lake Central and River Forest, and compiling the best defensive record for the conference and this region.

Sidestepping a Merrville Pirate, Rich McClanahan moves in to put it up for two.

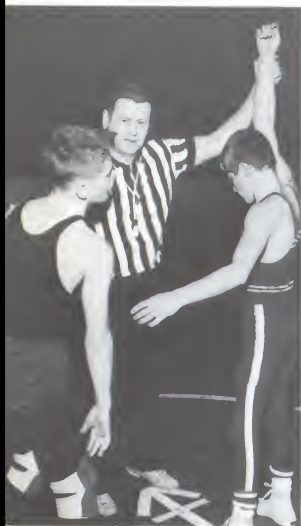

Calumet's Freshman Basketball team enjoyed a 21—8 season, promising a fine varsity squad for the future.

The team was led by Tim Coffman, James Anderson, Bob Wheatly and Rich McClanahan.

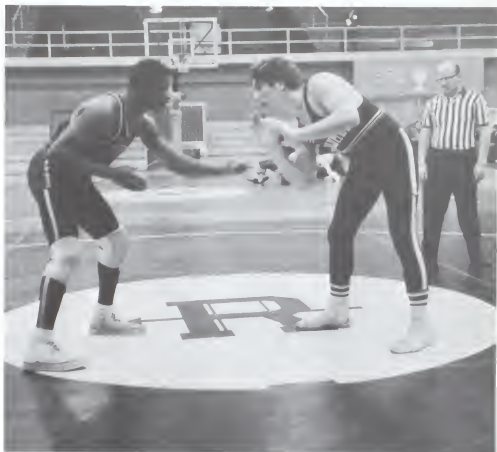

Overcoming broken bones and the loss of players to the J.V. team Coach Triacoff lead the frosh to one of the finest records in the school history.

The Junior Varsity had a rough time, but still came through with a fine season. Bright spots were John Allen's rebounding, and Woggie Keck's shooting and defensive plays.

Losing Season Promises Bright Future

Self-sacrifice, mat burns, sweat, starvation, and determination carried the Calumet grapplers through their fourth year of tough varsity competition. The grunts and groans of hard exercise were nothing short of a symphony to coaches Beckham and Pychinka. Leading the team through the season were Tom McLaurin, conference co-champion in the 127 lb. weight class; Ira Rouse, who placed second in the East Chicago Sectional at 133 lbs.; and Bruce Schwartz, the team's anchor man at heavyweight.

The highlight of the season was placing second in the Columbus Tourney, a meet which brought together some of the toughest teams in the state. Holding first places were Tom McLaurin, Ira Rouse, and Bruce Schwartz.

The freshman and reserve team, led by Charles Sheets at 95 lbs. and Dale Reissetter at 175 lbs., came up with an impressive 6—1 record, and showed promise of improving the varsity record of 5—6.

Bowling,

Every Thursday Calumet boys can be found playing in the alleys (at the Tri-City Bowl), coached by Mr. Zicilinski, these boys compete for individual and team trophies.

Individual first place trophies were awarded to Carl Gearhart for high series; Roger Pace for high game average; and Joe Kelly for high game. Team trophies went to the first place team of Jim Crowell, Glen Erickson, Jim Cook, and Carl Cooper who were first in high team series.

Taking an active interest in basketball, 50 boys gather every Sat. morning to participate in the intramural league.

This year after a hard fought season of round robin play, the championship contest pitted the Foy's against the Sharks. The Foy's were victorious by a mere 30—29 score.

and Rebuild After Championship Performance

With the loss of state champion Bill Towsen and excellent performers Karl Florence and Bill Ellis, rebuilding was the scene as the Warriors shifted from state contenders to this year's underclassmen dominated team.

Silas Sconier's first places in the high and low hurdles gave the track team a needed lift. Henry Butler's 1:58 placed him 2nd in the Hammond sectionals in the 880 yard run.

Spring sports are generally least attended, but desire and hope keep the baseball team playing. Again heading up the baseall team for his fifth year was Mr. Dick Treka. Weakened by the graduation of many key players, the Warriors early season surprise was their defeat of the defending state champions, Bishop Noll, behind the 3 hit pitching of Barry Porter.

The brother act of Dean and Gene Johnson gave the Warriors defensive and offensive strength at first base and behind the plate. Fred Keck's pitching sparked the Warriors on to many victories throughout the season. Against Griffith, Keck came in the game to hold a 3—3 score until Calumet scored in the twelfth inning. Mr. Treka looks forward to a bright season with freshmen Kirk Cuneo, David Keck, and Mike Lovings.

One of the least popular spring sports at Calumet is golf. Although unnoticed by most students, our golf team has gradually improved over the last two years.

Compiling on 8—2 record, the golf team gained a share of the Calumet Conference title. Led by junior Joe Olis with the capable assistance of seniors, Roy Nasby and Bob Freeman, the team posted a 13—8 overall record. Another reason for the team's success was the improvement of underclassmen Doug Nasby, Jack Willsey, Carl Saroff, and Richard Page, the important fourth and fifth men.

Next year, the Warriors hope for an equally successful season, with four returning lettermen and several promising underclassmen.

Bake Sale

The smell of good cooking equals money in the treasury. With this fact in mind, the class of "72" held the first fund-raising project of their high school career. October 6th found cakes, pies, cookies, and cupcakes at Penney's in the Village. Accompanying these goodies were enterprising freshman crying, "Step right up. Help yourself and pay the young lady with the cash-box."

Window stickers were the next items put up for grabs by the ambitious frosh. With the Warrior emblem on the outside, these unique stickers found their way into many Calumet homes and automobiles.

Freshmen

Moving up is the goal of Calumet students but the members of the freshmen class may think they're getting nowhere. When they become sophomores, these Warriors will still be the youngest class at C.H.S. Beginning in September, 1969, the freshmen classes are scheduled to move to the junior highs and the high school will have only three grades. Because of this, the Class of "72" will have to wait one more year. Then they can look around and find someone younger to tease.

Sophomores Willingly Take on Many

Evelyn Houllis, showed great enthusiasm in homecoming week activities. The sophs sponsored the pep assembly and presented the football team with the traditional homecoming cake.

Starting out a brisk school day by raising the flag are sophomores Janet Webster and Helena Gruszyk.

Responsibilities

Under the guidance of their new sponsor, Mrs. Houllis, the Class of '71 made their treasury soar to new heights. Earning much but spending little, the money-minded sophs put forth an all-out effort to get a start on their Prom fund.

Their best project was the sale of bumper stickers. These stickers were red and white bearing the name CALUMET WARRIORS. The Warrior mascot received his publicity as he was seen on the stickers, too. Not only were these stickers found on car bumpers, but in the lockers of many proud Warriors who don't drive to school.

"Red'n white's better". "Yeah, but the finish wears off; I know a girl and hers started to..."

Each fall tenth graders carry on an annual controversy. Rings are the topic, and the merits of red vs. white and a cut stone vs. a buffed stone are the talk. Finally the decisions are made, the ring size is taken, and the Balfour Co. starts to fill the order. When the rings arrive, anxious juniors rush to Troxel's to pay their balance and proudly display their '71' ring.

Spirit, enthusiasm, and leadership helped to guide the Junior Class through an exciting and successful year. These and other activities helped to raise money for the spring Prom.

Seniors—

Stars of '69

In September of '68 the seniors began their final year with the feeling that graduation was a long way off, but the activity of the last year made the time go faster than they ever thought possible.

For the first time in many years the administration allowed senior cords and members of the class used their artistic ability to create wild designs.

The seniors also had the unique distinction of being the first class to graduate from the new fieldhouse. Both Baccalaureate and Commencement ceremonies were held there.

Then suddenly May arrived and the seniors of '69 stood together for the last time and looked back on a year that had just begun.

Top Students Honored

Although athletic development is important in high school life, scholastic ability and achievement is still recognized as the most vital objective in school.

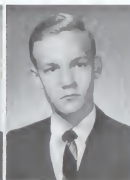

Mary Verkuilen and Belinda Wigsmoen, the valedictorian and salutatorian for '69, have been the two outstanding students in this field. Aside from their academic studies they are also involved in many other activities. Mary is active in athletics, being the president of the G.A.A., and Belinda has been a member of the band for four years.

Happiness Is

- ... Selling a full page ad
- ... Having an empty contract book
- ... Sending out thank you letters
- ... Getting ads the easy way—by mail
- ... Selling 900 Yearbook subscriptions
- ... Convincing teachers there are no free yearbooks
- ... Balancing the books
- ... An overflowing cash box
- ... Meeting friendly merchants
- ... Finishing the job

These are pages 194 and 195. Don't be surprised that there are no pictures. You have just gone through one hundred and ninety-three previous pages of photographic wizardry. We, the staff of the '69 Chieftain, have chosen these two pages for a conclusion to our work.

Our theme has been Happiness Is . . . We tried to represent in pictures, words and design what we felt were the happy and memorable moments at Calumet in 1968-69. Now both the book and the school year are ended and the pages are blank.

We can no longer suggest, tell or show what happiness is, because it is something different for every student and teacher at Calumet. It is a personal thing.

For those who have gone through the memories in this book, Happiness Is . . . (well, we choose to have you finish these pages.)

Happiness Is . . .

AMERICAN YEARBOOK	scott caton
ADVISOR	dennis lavery

Happiness is a job well done. Now, who do you thank? The acknowledgement list probably is not complete, but they never are. The year was hectic and for a time unbelievable. Yes, we made our deadlines, cropped pictures, typed thousands of words and cried alot. But sometime in the wee hours of a June morning, the final pages were packaged and mailed with a sigh of relief and 82¢ in postage.

A few students must be singled out for special recognition. They are the ones who sacrificed study time and lost sleep to meet the FINAL DEADLINE.

Lawna Enoch—an exception to the senior rule. She still was as dependable as ever during the second semester and after graduation.

Vickie Gonzales and Cheryl Meulemans—a junior and a sophomore who worked all year with camera and chemicals, took up the slack and completed all the necessary busy work in the final weeks.

Annie Buergler—the '70 editor learned what "yearbooking" was all about and gained valuable experience in meeting a time schedule.

Tom Irvine—the rare bird of the staff. He was the only boy to be appointed to the staff. While cropping pictures and drawing layouts he still found time to run for coffee before fatigue set in.

This book would not be in your hands if these five people did not care.

Thanks for everything
